We need help!

RSCM Portsmouth is looking for:

- A new Chairman for the Mainland Committee to replace Michael Stoddart
- An Area Treasurer following John Austin's retirement

If you think you can help by filling either of these posts (or can think of someone who could!) please get in touch with the Area Chairman, David Price (contact details above).

From our Area Chairman...

Greetings to all members of the RSCM in the Portsmouth Area and all who are working to lead music in our worship.

The local RSCM has been busy over the past year, but we have not circulated a newsletter for a little while and so there are a number of events to be celebrated.

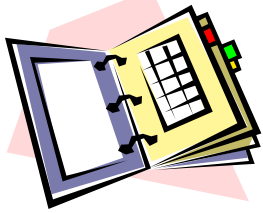

Last year's Festival was a challenging sing, but the assembled choirs sang superbly under the direction of Michael Stoddart. Soon afterwards we bade farewell to Michael as he moved to take up the post of Master of Music at Newcastle Cathedral. We thank Michael for all he did to support the RSCM in this area.

We look forward to welcoming Simon Lole back again to direct this year's festival 'Angel Voices' on 10th October. Simon was until recently Director of Music at Salisbury Cathedral. Now freelance amongst other things he presents on BBC Radio Three and is, appropriately enough for us this year, Music Director for the pop group 'All Angels'.

Cathedral SingUp is in full swing the moment. The cathedral choir and music staff have been working with schools such as Wooton, Binstead, Cottage Grove, Paulsgrove and Craneswater to promote singing in choirs as part of the government's Music Manifesto. If you would like us to work with your local school please email singup@portsmouthcathedral.org.uk

Please do take a look at a number of events both committees are planning and I hope to see you at some of them.

David Price
